NAME:

A handwriting practice sheet for the word "STOP". The word is written in large, bold, black letters across five horizontal lines. Each letter has a dashed line indicating the starting point and direction of the stroke. The letters are: S (top curve), P (vertical line down, then curve), O (circle), T (vertical line down, then horizontal top bar), and S (bottom curve). The background features a large, faint outline of the word "STOP" with dashed lines for stroke order. The sheet is divided into two sections by a horizontal line.
